ABOUT ME

I'm a Frontend Web Developer with one year of experience and +1,000 hours of coding. I have a proven passion for problem solving challenges and to learn everyday. I want to collaborate effectively with other developers while spending extra time to be mentored. I'm an autodidact, I have been learning from different sources to learn new languages while sharpening existing skills. Ready to apply my passion for coding to a talented engineering team to develop quality solutions.
